ADONIS

A byword for physical perfection, the Adonis range finds inspiration in mythology. An ancient story of love and passion is echoed in the timeless beauty of Swarovski crystals picking out the pattern of stars in the night sky. These precious elements punctuate the classic form of each piece, as words on a gleaming white page, whilst hand painted 24 carat gold – the currency of the gods - is used to delicately wrap each elegant form.

Inspired by the elegance and majesty of a Royal wedding, the Princess design is truly a fairy tale marriage in its own right. REGENCY PLATINUM

If elegance were to be given form then Regency would be it. The perfect accessory to a truly special occasion, the pure beauty of Regency's sculpted china forms is enhanced by the symmetry of platinum gilt edging. Inspired by the inlaid metal work so favoured by designers of the Regency period from which the collection takes its name, the effortless symmetry of the concentric lines which sweep around each piece, evokes the spirit of early twentieth century design, a period renowned and revered for its simplicity, style and elegance.

JUPITER

The Roman god of light and sky, Jupiter was a king amongst gods whose name was bestowed upon the largest of the planets. And just as Jupiter's majestic moons encircle its own planetary form, so too a wealth of crystals in varying sizes embellishes each piece in this stunning range.

And in an echo of the beauty and majesty of space itself, golden lines elegantly traced around each form by the skilled hands of Prouna's artists, give a sense of grandness and order to this perfect collection.

PERIDOT

Throughout nature, green is the signifier of life; the new shoots filled with moisture, the power and majesty of the rainforest canopy turning a hundred thousand leaves to face the sun. And so it is with Peridot, as green lines embrace rays of light and gems planted as seeds shine through as dew on fresh morning grass. Peridot – the giver of life, the signifier of beauty.

THE MAKING OF PROUNA

Searching the world for the right blend of skills required to bring together form and function in such a unique way, Prouna selected only the highest quality raw materials and the latest state of the art technologies available in England, France, Germany and USA in order to realise its concept.

And when it came to its manufacture, Prouna chose a company with a truly distinguished heritage. Hankook Chinaware has a long tradition supplying many of the world's most prestigious companies. Its location, drawing on over 5,000 years of Korean tradition and craftsmanship, made it the ideal partner to be entrusted with turning Prouna's unique vision into a reality.

And its rich heritage and innovative approach mirrored perfectly the blend of history and technology that was at the very essence of Prouna itself. And now Hankook has been entrusted with bringing this beautiful new concept to life.

Presenting a unique harmony of form, function and beauty... Prouna Jewelry.

Its very name resonates with exotic mystery. For more than three thousand years Persia was a melting pot of civilizations and the Persia range similarly evokes such a majestic heritage. Intoxicating hand drawn designs hark back to a time of eastern elegance and exquisite lines of delicate blooms sit below a feast of gemstone stars cast across the night sky.
